Focused Flexible Accelerated Studies Program

The ICTS FFAST program aims to provide various training opportunities to graduate students, post-doctoral scholars and junior faculty to ensure that they possess the core competencies to work effectively both in the broad discipline of translational science and in their specific area of research. To meet this goal the ICTS will provide a variety of trainings throughout the year through our Focused Flexible Accelerated Studies (FFAST) Workshops.

Dissemination and Implementation

Stephen Schueller, PhD, Associate Professor of Psychological Science and Informatics at UC Irvine and the Executive Director of One Mind PsyberGuide will facilitate this virtual workshop providing an overview of what is Dissemination and Implementation research. This workshop will:

- Introduce attendees to Dissemination and Implementation science
- Identify Dissemination and Implementation questions related to research projects
- Describe basic models of Dissemination and Implementation research
- Identify outcomes related to Dissemination and Implementation research
- Identify resources to support Dissemination and Implementation grant writing
